

OVERVIEW

Texas Success Initiative

Students attending Texas public institutions of higher education must be in compliance with the Texas Success Initiative (TSI), as of fall 2003 (Texas Education Code §51.3062) in order to enroll in public institutions of higher education. The law requires all entering college students to be assessed for college readiness in reading, mathematics and writing unless the student qualifies for an exemption. Each student who fails to meet the minimum passing standard of the exam offered by the institution must be placed in a developmental education program designed to help the student achieve college readiness.

Which students must take a TSI exam?

Unless exempt, students who are entering a Texas college or university must take a TSI exam and receive a passing score in order to enroll in credit bearing courses. Students may be exempt from taking a TSI exam by achieving any of the requirements included on the right.

When do students take a TSI exam?

Students must take a TSI exam and have scores on file before they can enroll in college-level classes. Each college and university offers a different exam. A student must take the exam required by the college or university he/she will be attending. Students are notified of their scores and eligibility to enroll in credit bearing courses immediately upon completing an exam.

What TSI exams are available to students?

The exams currently authorized to satisfy TSI are:

- ASSET
- COMPASS
- THEA
- ACCUPLACER

For a complete list of TSI exemptions, see Texas Education Code, §51.3062\(r\) and Coordinating Board rules, §4.54.

What happens if a student does not pass all parts of a TSI exam?

Students who do not pass one or all parts (English, mathematics, and writing) of a TSI exam must enroll in an appropriate developmental education course before the student may enroll in a credit bearing course for the subject in which he/she did not meet state standards. A student may retake an exam instrument at any time, subject to availability, to determine the student's readiness to perform freshman-level academic coursework.

What are the minimum passing scores for each exam?

The minimum passing standards for each TSI approved exam is listed below. However, it is critical to note that each college or university may require higher standards.

Minimum Passing Standards

The minimum passing standard for the written essay portion of the ASSET, COMPASS, and ACCUPLACER is a score of 6. However, an essay with a score of 5 will meet this standard if the student meets the objective writing test standard of these tests.

Note: Texas public institutions of higher education will be required to assess all first time in college students under the Texas Success Initiative (TEC §51.3062) using the new Texas Success Initiative (TSI) Assessment no later than the first day of classes in fall 2013. House Bill 1244, 82nd Texas Legislature, 2011, amended the Texas Success Initiative, Texas Education Code §51.3062(f), in two specific ways:

- Provided the Coordinating Board with the authority to prescribe a single standard or set of standards for assessments each public institution of higher education must use to assess the readiness of students to perform freshman-level academic coursework; and
- Repealed the authority of IHEs to adopt more stringent standards than those set by the Coordinating Board, effective with the 2013-2014 academic year.

The new assessment is being developed. All other tests (ACCUPLACER, COMPASS, THEA, and ASSET) will no longer be used to determine college readiness.
